

Why Govern:
The Strategic, Functional and Normative Logics of Global Governance

3-5 October 2013

Venue: Butler Boardroom, American University

Programme

Thursday October 3, 2013

7pm: Conference Reception: SIS Founders' Room

Friday, October 4, 2013

9-9.10am: Welcome: James Goldgeier, American University

9.10-9.20am: Opening Remarks, Amitav Acharya, American University

9.20-9.30am: Opening Remarks, Conor Seyle, One Earth Future Foundation

9.30-11am Panel 1: Reconceptualizing Global Governance

Chair: James Goldgeier, American University

1. The Competing and Convergent Logics of Global Governance, Amitav Acharya, American University
2. Planetary Geopolitics, the Decline of World Government, and the Rise of Regimes, Global Governance, and Social Movements, Daniel Deudney, Johns Hopkins University

Discussant: Miles Kahler, University of California, San Diego; Tamar Gutner, American University

11-11.15am: Coffee Break

11.15-1pm Panel 2: Theories and Approaches

Chair: Patrick Jackson, American University

1. Who's Liberal Now? Rising Powers and Global Norms, Miles Kahler, University of California, San Diego
2. Constructivism and Global Governance, Rodney Bruce Hall, Oxford University
3. Demand for Global Governance, Spheres of Authority, and Powers, Eamon Aloyo and Jeffrey French, One Earth Future Foundation

Discussant: David Bosco, American University; Patrick Jackson, American University

1-2pm Lunch

2-3.30pm Panel 3: Human Rights and Environment

Chair: Judith Shapiro, American University

1. Human Rights as Constitutive Norms of Global Governance, Kathryn Sikkink, University of Minnesota/Harvard University
2. Why Govern the Climate?, Sikina Jinnah, American University

Discussants: Mike Schroeder, American University; David Hunter, American University

3.30-3.45pm: Coffee Break

3.45- 5.15pm Panel 4 Global Economic Governance

Chair: Daniel Bernhofen, American University

1. Contradictory Legacies? The Demand for Global Financial Governance After the 2008 Crisis, Eric Helleiner, University of Waterloo
2. Why Govern Trade?, Susan Sell, George Washington University

Discussants: Randy Henning, American University; Gary Hufbauer, Peterson Institute of International Economics

7:00-9:00 pm: Conference Dinner: 6901, Winterberry Lane, Bethesda, MD 20817 (transport provided)

Saturday, October 5, 2013:

9.00-11am Panel 5: Human Security

Chair: Amitav Acharya, American University

1. The Emergent System of Global Governance, Andrew Mack, Simon Fraser University, Canada
2. Humanitarian Crises and Global Governance: A Gap Analysis, Ramesh Thakur, Australian National University
3. The Evolution of the Global Refugee Regime: The Sources of Demand for Change, Alexander Betts, Oxford University

Discussants: Randolph Persaud, American University; Boaz Atzili, American University, Elizabeth Ferris, Brookings Institution

11-11.15am: Coffee Break

11.15- 1.15pm Panel 6: Global Health, Civics and Cyberspace

Chair: Conor Seyle, One Earth Future Foundation

1. Health and Global Governance, David P. Fidler, University of Indiana Law School
2. Global Civics as a Harbinger to Global Governance?, Hakan Altinay, Brookings Institution
3. Why Govern Cyberspace and Social Media, Derrick Cogburn, American University

Discussant: Daniel Esser, American University, Aaron Boesenecker, American University,

1.15-2.45pm: Working Lunch: Policy Outcomes and Plan for the Edited Volume

Chair: Marcel Arsenault, One Earth Future Foundation

7:00-9:00 pm: Farewell Dinner: Indique Heights, 2 Wisconsin Cir #200 Chevy Chase, MD 20815